

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
PROVIDENCE, RI

PRESS CONTACT: Alexa Reis
Alexa@DDLAdvertising.com
401-396-6090

Local advertising entrepreneur releases RI-Based Memoir October 16, 2023

Stacey Caputi Liakos' page-turner of a debut is an explosive, up-close portrait of a young couple's struggle as addiction and violent behavior interfere.

Owner of Rhode Island based ad agency DDL Advertising and North Providence native Stacey Caputi Liakos has released her debut memoir, Stray Love: My Lessons on Love, Life, and Loss. The memoir, currently available for paperback purchase or free Kindle Unlimited download on Amazon, stretches from the newsroom at ABC local news affiliate WLNE to the streets of Cranston and beyond.

Stray Love recounts the troubling decade-long relationship between a teenage Stacey and her first love, exploring themes of crossing over to the other side of the metaphorical tracks of society. When Stacey leaves her white-picket-fence childhood to be with Ray Ray, what initially felt like a dream quickly becomes a nightmare as his inner demons turn violent.

As their relationship blossoms, Stacey realizes the drug-dealing lifestyle of her supposed soulmate and her goals of being a news reporter put them on opposite sides of the same path. As passions rise, along with Ray's inner struggles, can Stacey bring herself back from the brink of a vicious cycle of destruction, dysfunction, and bad decisions?

Stray Love is a gripping personal view of one woman's descent into darkness by the side of the man she loved, and her triumph as she makes hard decisions to find her pathway to happiness.

For more press copies, author inquiries, or other information, please visit mystraylove.com, or reach out to the author directly at hello@straylove.com

Reviews

"...suspenseful, with some spice and a beautiful relatable story"

-P. Fung, Amazon

"Real, honest and intense love story..."

-O. Beltran, Amazon

"Passionate, intense, powerful story that is relatable to many people who have loved and lost"

-B. Mendes, Amazon

About The Book

Stray Love: My Lessons on Love, Life, and Loss

By Stacey Caputi Liakos

ISBN-13: 979-8218148980

Page Length (paperback): 197

Available On: Amazon, Kindle, Kindle Unlimited

About the Author

Stacey was born and raised in a loving home in Rhode Island with her parents, twin sister and younger sister. She has always been a determined entrepreneur and has certainly had her fair share of successes and failures along the way. She is the owner of her flourishing marketing and advertising agency, DDL Advertising in Cranston, RI. She resides in Somerset, MA and has been married for more than a decade with three children of her own that she loves more than anything.